Where Will Our Journey Lead Us?

There are a number of “personal” challenges laid out for us from our readings this week. The familiar story of the Transfiguration of Jesus tells us of God’s dream for who we shall be by grace. Abraham shows us what is necessary for the success of our journey; that we should leave home with all of its familiar surroundings and venture into God’s unknown future. Then, Paul advises us not to expect that our own hopes and plans will be a trustworthy guide to what God might have in store. All of this points to our own journey of faith and life.

First we hear how Yahweh reaches out to Abram with a promise. The very first word spoken to Abraham by God is simply “go.” This is where his journey begins; he starts a pilgrim journey towards a land yet unknown to him but which God promises to show him. A true leap of faith demonstrating the trust Abraham put in that command. Abraham has to put all of his trust in God’s word. His personal story now becomes the story of a people; a story brightened up by God’s countless blessings. The question we are to ask ourselves is: who and what have we left behind in order to be faithful to God’s call?

While we tend to understand faith, Catholic or otherwise, as the adherence to a given set of beliefs and rules, it is all the more refreshing to be sent back to the beginnings of biblical faith and to be reminded of what the first steps and the essence of faith are. What comes first is God’s word which is clearly an invitation to set out on a journey, whose destination is known by God alone. Do we walk with this kind of faith, or do we have to be certain where our journey will take us? Are we open to something new that God may have in store for us or do we not like surprises on our journey? Abraham went as the Lord asked. This is faith, pure faith at its best: trusting in the Lord and in all of the promises made, opening our lives to a journey towards unknown territory.

Paul advises in the second reading that we should not trust our own hopes and plans to be a trustworthy guide to what God might have in store. To what extent have we kept that kind of flame alive? Sometimes we focus way too much on the internal problems facing our church today. We worry about what tomorrow might or might not bring. We forget that God keeps calling us to new challenges and to new discoveries, accomplishments and rewards. Have we lost sight of our final destination or would it be that on our own journey in faith we have never experienced the rewards and the blessings of the journey itself?

The Transfiguration reminds us that it is all about our journey and where that journey will lead us. While it was safe for the disciples to remain on the mountain where everything was familiar and comfortable, Jesus quickly reminds them that their journey does not end there, that they must go down from the mountain, into the world where both pain and love co-exist. There Peter, James, and John will find God; and so will we. We cannot stay on top of the mountain like the Disciples wanted to. We cannot hold onto God and try to keep God locked up in some remote place. God must be found in the everyday routine of our lives, at the foot of the mountain where we live. It is there that we must “listen to him,” no matter where our journey might lead us or what change might be waiting for us in life.

Stewardship

DLA: "One Body in Christ"

If we have learned anything from our experiences with COVID, it is the simple fact that we do need each other. The longing for being with people was felt by practically everyone in our society. This indicates to all of us how important it is to be part of the Body of Christ and our need for one another.

During the Lenten season, we all work to deepen our awareness of building a relationship with the Lord and with each other. Through fasting and almsgiving and prayer we can grow into a deeper relationship not only with God but also with our Church. With that in mind I am asking that you consider sharing your blessings to help our faith community Grow in the Lord. You can make your donation to the 2023 Diocesan Lenten Appeal at Dioceseofgreensburg.org/One Body in Christ.

Filling the Ark!

Thus far our ARK is empty. We have a long way to go to fill it up. Remember if you wish to make a contribution to the Heifer project, just drop your donation into the collection basket.

The gift of a goat: Did you know that more people rely on goats for milk than Cows. They're a great alternative for families who live in rocky mountainous Areas or own little land. Goats often give about four quarts of milk a day – just the right amount if you don't own a refrigerator. Goat manure makes a fantastic fertilizer for increasing vegetable crop yields, and goats give birth to two kids a year, providing a steady source of income.

We can all do our part by helping our parish purchase an ARK through Heifer International. Each week of Lent, I will let you know just which animals have boarded the ark!
