No Prophet is Without Honor...

Have you ever found it to be true that when you are at your lowest point in life you are able to find your greatest strength? It seems that when we have nowhere to go but up, that is exactly what we do. Today our readings speak to us about the role of the prophet, and the struggles they are faced with in life. Generally when we think of any sort of prophet our minds drift towards what we know about the prophets from the history of the Jewish People. Our first reading tells us of the grief that Ezekiel had to endure. He was the first prophet to preach outside of the Holy Land. His mission was to reach the hearts of the people in exile and bring them back home. He showed the people of Israel that their God was extremely mobile and not just found in one place. The people didn't want to be reminded of their transgressions and as a result they gave him a pretty rough time.

In spite of the hardships that the prophets endured, they did complete the tasks God gave them. We hear the same to be true for St. Paul. He speaks of his own personal sufferings which he endured for the sake of Christ. Jesus also in the Gospel endures hardship in delivering his message. The people of his own town were not able to see beyond what they knew of Jesus to hear his message. As a result, their lack of faith prohibited Jesus from working any miracles there. The people lacked faith in Jesus so he went somewhere else. Often we are as unbending in our opinions as were the people of Nazareth. What is our response to people who tell us things we do not want to hear?

A true prophet is one who looks at the world and comes up with solutions and new visions to bring about change and hope in a church or the society in general. The problem is that whenever someone speaks of change no matter how great or small, we usually resist the impulse to change. Their message either goes unheard or unheeded. As we approach our readings for today we can recall the many prophets in our time that were met with opposition and derision. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Fr. Dan Berrigan come to mind during the crucial civil rights movement and the Vietnam War. Mother Teresa is remembered now for her saintly love of the poor, but it is important to remember that, when she first arrived in Calcutta and spoke loudly against ingrained attitudes toward the poor, people stoned her and shouted abusively against her as she would leave her home each day. Prophetic voices warned against going to war in Iraq, among them Pope John Paul II. They were discounted, and the war became a witches' brew of violence and terrorism. So the world has not changed that much since Ezekiel's time.

Our church likes to define itself as a community that is always reforming. Yet sometimes it is difficult to see our spiritual leaders moving in that direction. Those who speak out for bold measures are not usually very popular. As a result, they usually do not move up the ladder of leadership. Saint John XXIII, before he became pope, was exiled by the Vatican to Bulgaria because he was considered too progressive. He was removed from the seminary faculty for teaching "unorthodox" theology.

Prophets are often ordinary people so we ought to be careful about silencing those who speak courageously and boldly in religion and politics. Let's not send them into exile. The Holy Spirit is not always in the status quo. Each of us can be a prophet speaking out from our ordinary stations in life and make a difference. It might mean being a prophet without honor in one's own land, but it is worth the risk.

Cantors, Lectors, Altar Servers: Please let Tara know your availability for the new schedule by Tuesday, July 6. . You can email tmanderino@dioceseofgreensburg.org or call the office.

With Deepest Sympathy — Condolences are extended to the families of RITA COCCA, JUDY ANN STEPOLI, AND RONALD CAMPANA. May God grant them eternal rest, and comfort to their families. We commend their souls to rest in the peace of Christ.

Thank you from the Bishop

Thank you so much for all of your assistance, generosity and hospitality pertaining to my recent visit to Epiphany of Our Lord Parish. It was deeply appreciated.

Special thanks for the delicious pierogis—I shared them with my dad and uncle....

Please pass along my gratitude, extend my pledge of prayers to your staff, volunteers and parishioners.

Faith

The RCIA Lenten Journey

If anyone has asked you about being Catholic — they may be interested in learning more about our faith. Tell them about RCIA.

For the RCIA participants (or the Elect, as they are now called) the Lenten season is the most intense. For them, this is the Period of Purification and Enlightenment, a time when they and we as a parish family are called to examine our lives, to turn away from sin, and to ask for God to rid us of all that is keeping us from becoming holy. Those who are on the journey toward the Easter Vigil are to intensify their prayer, to join the Church in her penitential practices and almsgiving, and to begin to discern where the Lord may be calling them to serve God through service in their new parish family.

During the Sundays of Lent, the elect and their sponsors are called forward to participate in a special intercessory prayers and blessings known as the Scrutinies. At these liturgies, the community hears special Gospel readings chosen especially for the occasion; and then, the celebrant invites the entire assembly to pray for the elect, that they would be freed from the hold of sin and would reform their lives. As we pray with and for them, we pray that we, too, might come to know the Lord in a deeper and more personal way and that God might free us from all that would hold us back from embracing God fully in our lives.

This period calls us all to experience a "metanoia," or change of heart. The elect and Team members also attend a Day of Recollection in order to prepare themselves quietly and earnestly to experience the mystery of the Holy Triduum and the glory of the Resurrection.

If you or someone you know would like to learn more about the RCIA, please call the faith formation office at 724-929-9300.

4th of July

This weekend we celebrate the Birthday of our Nation! Even though the weekend is crowded with picnics and celebrations, we all need to take a few minutes to ponder over what it means to live in this great nation. Freedom is a precious gift and like so many we don't appreciate it nearly enough. So, take a few minutes just to be grateful for who we are and what we have as citizens of this great nation.
